

CallTower Teams Mobile & Webex Go Native Dialer (eSim) + Yealink T74LTE

Connect Desk Phones Without Cabling, PoE, or Complex Infrastructure

Modern workplaces need flexible, reliable voice solutions — but not every location is built for traditional desk phone deployments. Running Ethernet, adding PoE switches, and coordinating cabling can add cost, time, and complexity, especially in spaces where infrastructure is limited, temporary, restricted, or difficult to modify.

With CallTower Teams Mobile and Webex Go Native Dialer (eSim), businesses can now extend their calling experience to a wireless desk phone environment using the Yealink T74LTE desk phone. The result: a simple, powerful way to deploy a full-featured desk phone without relying on traditional wired network access at the desk.

Ideal Use Cases

01

Construction Sites

02

Hospitals

03

Historic Buildings

04

Open-Office Layouts

05

Pop-Up Retail

06

Sporting Arenas

07

Remote Offices

A Desk Phone That Works Where Cabling Doesn't

The Yealink T74LTE is designed for wireless business communications. With a built-in nano SIM slot, VoLTE calling, built-in dual-band 2.4G/5G Wi-Fi, Bluetooth 5.0, and a 4.3-inch color display, it gives organizations the familiar desk phone experience with far greater deployment flexibility.

Because the T74LTE can operate over cellular coverage using VoLTE, organizations can place desk phones in locations where Ethernet or Wi-Fi may be unavailable, unreliable, expensive, or impractical.

Key Yealink T74LTE Features

> Why It Matters

- Reduce Infrastructure Costs: Avoid expensive cabling projects, reduce dependence on PoE infrastructure, and simplify deployments in hard-to-wire environments.
- Deploy Faster: Instead of waiting on network drops, IT teams can place desk phones where they are needed and connect through the Tango Extend SIM.
- Support Flexible Workspaces: Ideal for temporary, mobile, or changing business environments where voice access is needed quickly.
- Deliver a Familiar UC Experience: Organizations can continue using CallTower Teams Mobile or Webex Go while giving users a professional desk phone experience.
- Improve Resiliency & Business Continuity: The T74LTE includes wired network, wireless network, and 4G network redundancy options, helping organizations maintain communication continuity during internet, network, or telephony disruptions.